Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Campbell et al. (4,817,239).
3. Claims 1, 4 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Borchers (2,447,389).

Note that intended use is given no patentable weight. Both '239 and '389 meet the invention as claimed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 2-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Campbell et al. '239.

'239 does not show using apertures in the front face to secure the opener.

However, '239 teaches using screws secure the rear face. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to form addition apertures in the front face to receive screws since it has been held that mere duplication of the essential working parts of a device involves only routine skill in the art. St. Regis Paper Co. v. Bemis Co., 193 USPQ 8.

As to the adhesive, it would have been an obvious matter of design choice to use adhesive as an alternative to attach the opener, since applicant has not disclosed that use adhesive solves any stated problem or is for any particular purpose and it appears that using screws would perform equally well. In re Kuhle, 188 USPQ 7.

As to claims 4-5, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to choose brass or stainless steel to form the opener, since it has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known material on the basis of its suitability for the intended use as a matter of obvious design choice. In re Leshin, 125 USPQ 416.

As to claim 6, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to make the opener from a single sheet of material, since it has been held that forming in one piece an article which has formerly been formed in two pieces involves only routine skill in the art.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 7-10 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

7. Claims 12-20 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

8. Applicant's arguments filed 2/4/2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant's primary argument is based on that neither '239 nor '389 recites the claimed "top face". The examiner strongly disagrees because Campbell et al. '239 clearly shows a top face (40) extending outwardly from the rear face (30) at an angle of 90° or less (see fig. 1 showing a portion of the face curved downwardly). Borchers '389 clearly shows a top face (15) extending outwardly from the rear face (12) at an angle of 90° or less (see figures 5 and 6, a portion of the face curved downwardly). It requires only a face extending outwardly from the rear face at an angle of 90° or less to meet the limitation as claimed. '239 and '389 show a face exactly as claimed.

Conclusion

9. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

10. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
